(Guide in Writing an Undergraduate Thesis in Philosophy) by Andres Salvador. Chapter 1. INTRODUCTION. The main purpose of the “Introduction” is to provide the readers a description and context of the problem that the researcher wants to see addressed in the proposed research project. In other words, the “Introduction” provides an overview of the problem that the researcher is faced with. This section states the main questions that will guide the researcher in writing the body of the research. Usually, the number of questions corresponds to the number of chapters that the thesis/research may contain, excluding the introductory chapter. It must also address all the key concepts or “variables” found in the title. Significance of the Study.
