CiteScore values are based on citation counts in a range of four years (e.g. 2016-2019) to peer-reviewed documents (articles, reviews, conference papers, data papers and book chapters) published in the same four calendar years, divided by the number of these documents in these same four years (e.g. 2016-2019). Impact Factor: 2.027™ Impact Factor: 2018: 2.027 The Impact Factor measures the average number of citations received in a particular year by papers published in the journal during the two preceding years. He has co-authored 2 books, edited 13 books, and obtained more than 40 patents and authored more than 300 peer-reviewed papers, including more than 10 papers in Science and Nature family journals. His research has been recognized with a European Carbon Association Award, Chang Jiang Scholar Award, S. Somiya Award from the International Union of Materials Research Societies, G.C. Kuczynski Prize from the International Institute for the Science of Sintering, Roland Snow Award from the American Ceramic Society (4 times), NANOSMAT Prize, I.N. Frantsevich Prize from the Ukrainian Academy of Science Differences between journals and conferences in IEEE: Conference vs. Journal Papers. And taking from I still don't understand the difference between a Journal, proceedings, et al. : (1) A journal is a regular periodical publication, printed say monthly or bi-monthly, containing a collection of peer reviewed papers. A high 'impact rating' helps, this being a measure of citations to articles in the journal. 2) Proceedings are collections of papers presented at a conference and printed later. For instance, while book chapters may usually take longer to publish, there are some journal articles that have spent far more time in the pipeline than book chapters. 1k views Â· View 1 Upvoter Â· Answer requested by.
